PLACES OF INTEREST

- ORIOI PALACE
This beautiful palace built in 1902 in an eclectic style with Romantic and English influences is one of the few surviving private stately homes from Santurtzi's time as a resort frequented by wealthy tourists in the late 19th century.
- SAN JUAN DE DIOS HOSPITAL
Built in 1924, owned by the Agirre charitable foundation.
- MUSEUM OF SCULPTURE
This open-air museum comprises 14 works by leading Spanish and foreign sculptors in a wide variety of materials and supports.
- SEAFRONT PROMENADE & MARINA
The promenade runs from the fishing port to the famous Puente Bizkaia transporter bridge in Portugalete (a UNESCO Human Heritage Site), via the recently opened marina.
- FISHERMEN'S GUILD & IMAGE OF OUR LADY OF CARMEN
The construction of the breakwater and the commencement of work on the outer harbour in the late 19th century transformed Santurtzi. It was around that time that the town park was built on land reclaimed from the sea. The Fishermen's Guild building, designed by E. Pagazaurtundua, dates from 1916. Just opposite it stands an image of Our Lady of Carmen, who has been the patron saint of Santurtzi since 1907.
- TOWN HALL BUILDING – Monument to Cristóbal Murrieta
An eclectic building inspired on the style of the French Second Empire, designed by E. Pagazaurtundua in 1905. Next to it, it stands the monument to Cristóbal Murrieta, a benefactor who contributed greatly to the development of Santurtzi.
- MONUMENT TO THE SARDINE SELLER
On Paseo de Iparragirre, the promenade that overlooks the harbour and the bay stands a monument erected in honour of the fishwives who sold the sardines landed here. They would walk up the riverbank all the way to Bilbao selling their wares along the way. They carried the fish in a wicker basket on their heads, and traditionally dressed in check skirts, aprons and blue scarves. There is even a popular local song in celebration of this tradition.
- PARISH CHURCH OF LA VIRGEN DEL MAR
This neo-gothic building in the seafaring district of Mamariga dates from 1901.
- TOWER HOUSE PALACE
This majestic 18th century construction features a beautiful coat of arms on its corner.
- FORMER NAUTICAL COLLEGE & H. DE LA CRUZ SCHOOL
Both these buildings were built by Cristóbal Murrieta. The nautical college, where several generations of seafarers were trained, opened in 1860 and the school in 1863.
- CHURCH OF SAN JORGE
All that remains of the original Romanesque building is the tympanum over the door, which is now on display in the Diocesan MUSEUM of Sacred Art in Bilbao. A replica is also on show in the park in Santurtzi. The church tower was built by Lorenzo Muñoz in 1844. The park in front of it, which stands on land reclaimed from the sea, contains numerous unusual species of trees including Californian giant sequoias, cedars from the Himalayan and Atlas mountains, Japanese privet and American and African palms.
- SANTA EULALIA TRUST
Built in 1914 with funding from Aurora Vildosola as a home for orphans from Santurtzi and Sestao. An eclectic, classical hospital style building.

- APRIL FEAST OF ST. GEORGE: 23rd April.
CORNITES PROCESSION: First Monday after Easter, on Mount Serantes.
Since the 19th century a procession has been held on Mount Serantes every Easter Monday. The "cornite" from which it takes its name is a circular loaf of bread baked with hard-boiled egg and sausage inside it that is traditionally eaten on that day.

The festivities commence with "sardine day", when thousands of kilos of sardines are grilled on the streets in the traditional manner and distributed to onlookers. That night the people welcome "Mentxu", the mascot of the festivities, which takes the form of a seagull in commemoration of the town's maritime traditions. On 16th July a procession through the streets is held in honour of Our Lady of Carmen. Local fishermen carry the image of Our Lady from the church of San Jorge to the fishing port, where it is placed on a vessel decorated for the occasion and taken out onto the waters of the El Abra bay. There, a floral offering is made in memory of all fishermen lost at sea. Back on land there is a traditional dance in honour of the town's sardine sellers as representatives of women as a whole.
